

The pictures are taken at my home in Wigan and there will only be myself present (no other prying eyes).

The prices include the session, retouching of the images, changing to black & white if required and a glass of wine to calm those nerves.

It is entirely down to you what you want to do and don't want to do.

All you need to bring with you is some underwear of your choice (however many you want) and some high heeled shoes.

Your make up needs to be bold for it to stand out on the photographs and you can do your hair however you like, but might I suggest leaving it down for more effect.

For those getting married I recently did some pictures of a bride and she brought her jewelry, shoes and veil.

This might be something to think about.
